Occurrence of the Strike at the Liddell Coal Mine in Australia

We hereby announce that the strike has occurred at the Liddell coal mine (owned through a joint venture between Glencore Plc (67.5%) and Mitsui Matsushima Australia Pty Ltd., a consolidated subsidiary of Mitsui Matsushima Co., Ltd., (32.5%)) in Australia, which is operated in cooperation with Glencore Plc, a major resources company.

1 . Situation of the Strike

The strike has started in June 2017 at the Liddell coal mine in which Mitsui Matsushima Australia Pty Ltd., a consolidated subsidiary of Mitsui Matsushima Co., Ltd., owns 32.5% interest. Afterwards the strike has been occurring intermittently, and there has been an impact on coal production. But the operation is going on, and the impact of coal production is being mitigated as much as possible.

2 . Impact of Earnings

The impact that this event will have on the Company's consolidated earnings is currently being investigated and will be disclosed promptly as soon as it becomes known.
